CLASS OF 1996

"Vote for me and the class of '96 will have a trip to the beach," Al Albano declared. What ever did happen to our day at the beach anyway? Despite this minor shortcoming, our newly elected class president started us off as freshmen who would grow and prosper over four years under his leadership.

It was a time to remember. Sophomore year brought us a new principal, Mr. Furtado. This replacement of Mr. Morrissey by a "military man" definitely cut out a few runs to Pajar's or McDonald's during our twenty minute lunch. Things were looking up though, when our classes also became twenty minutes long due to weekly bomb scares. How many of us recall Mr. Baggetta's "Twilight Zone" episodes, Mrs. Pasternak's "verbage," or Mr. Fahey's Diet Coke cans? Then again, for some of us those soda cans were a "sign of the time" in our junior year.

Every day we awoke to our class president's greeting over the Ell network... "Excellence in Intercom." We also began to hear a new voice halfway through our junior year. Mr. Zablowski tackled the job of vice principal with a clipboard and a grin after Mr. Bates retired. He made his debut appearance at the 1995 Prom. We danced almost as much that night as we did in Justin Casinighino's conga line on Field Day. The 1995 Vaudeville Show was a hit for those of us who stayed. The seniors obviously felt that it was their time to leave, and ours to take their place.

Senior year, Mr. Zablowski took over as principal following Mr. Furtado's unexpected departure. The year's second surprise came when Mr. Zablowski announced the "Not Guilty" verdict in the trial of O. J. Simpson. Time has given us our freedom and the chance to be whatever we want!

EDITOR'S PAGES

Mom and Dad, I love you with all my heart. Thank you for always being there for me and trusting me to do the best that I can possibly do. It means a lot to me that you believe without a doubt in your mind that I can accomplish anything in life. I know in my heart that I wouldn't be who I am today without you.

Stephen and Danya, you two are the best siblings God could have ever given me. Being the middle child hasn't exactly been easy but I would never wish it to be any other way. Stephen, I've really missed you since you have gone off to college but I know we will never grow apart. Danya, I'm going to miss you next fall - your smile always makes me so happy. I thank you two for always being there for me and I love you both very much. Ging, I'm really glad you have come to live with us this year. Getting a new sister my age at seventeen years old has given me many memories I will remember for the rest of my life. I hope you know you always have a second family and home in the U.S.

I would like to take this space to thank everyone who has made this yearbook possible. Sachem Staff, without you guys the yearbook wouldn't even be half as great. Mr. Pulaski, what can I say? Your talents, ideas and willingness to help make creating a yearbook that much easier. I would also like to thank our representative this year, Paul Delaney, who we definitely couldn't have done without. And last but not least, thank you Dave Dello-Russo for putting exactly what I pictured the cover looking like on canvas. Your talents will forever be remembered for many years to come.

Gina, Danielle, Kelly, Adrienne, and Erica — You guys are the five best firends anyone could ever hope to have. I will never forget all the good times we have had together. Next year when we all go our separate ways, I know in my heart we will be just as close. Thanks for always being there for me. Remember all the laughs — I love you all.

Field Hockey — You guys are my second family. I will never forget the fun we had in New Hampshire. Ms. Grieve I thank you for all your support and guidance on and off the field over the past four years. I am forever grateful.

Jason — Thank you for three wonderful years. I will never forget the memories we share. Class of 1996 — I wish you the best of luck. The future is ours . . .

Love,
Kirsten L. Decoteau

Ecclesiastes 3

*A Time
To Be*

Do You Remember the TIME When ...

All of the girls dressed up in flowers for our eighth grade semi-formal, only to be greeted by some boys in togas?

- "I had a flower dress on!"
- Meagan Moriarty

- "It was supposed to be casual, but everybody was wearing dresses or suits and ties. We wanted to go in the opposite direction and go less dressed up so, we broke out our Roman Warfare!"

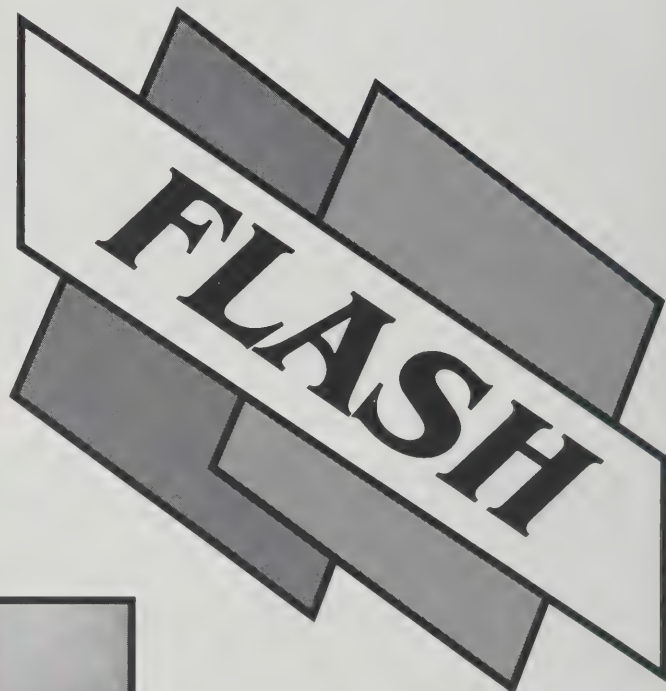

- B.J. Cortis

The girls' softball team won the 1995 Western Mass Championship?

- "The second to last out of the game came when the ball hit an opposing girl's foot. It was the best game of my life, and a team effort."

- Erica Pratt

Al Albano dressed up as King Lear?

- "He did it one time because we were reading King Lear in Mr. Baggetta's class, and once for Shakespeare week. He looked like Ronald McDonald with a red thing on his head."

- Dan Viens

Oversized pocketbooks, high hairstyles, polka dots, and doughnut rolls were in style?

- "I remember how foolish we all looked walking around school with our hair to the ceiling and bags under our eyes from getting up so early to apply a can of hairspray."

- Cara Fattini

BACKS

The balloon toss became a water balloon fight on Field Day?

- "We got our balloons and threw them into the crowd, five minutes later all of the balloons were gone and everyone was soaked."

- Chris Checile

We had the luxury of coming in at 7:35 a.m. instead of 7:25 a.m.?

- "I'm a morning person anyway, so I don't mind coming in ten minutes earlier: ten precious minutes that could be used to do other constructive things."

- Theresa Brown

A D M I N I S T R A T I O N

You're dozing off during seventh period, and suddenly either Mr. Cavallo or Mrs. Conte opens the door. You thought you made it through the day without getting caught for skipping, but they have their clipboard! This offense isn't the only one these assistant principals deal with though. With the help of our new principal, Mr. Zabielski, AHS students are kept in line. The administration is headed by our Superintendent, Bernard Ryder, and Assistant Superintendent, Donald Charest. This brings up yet one more dear high school memory — snow days. It's times like these that the superintendent gets the respect that he deserves.

GUIDANCE SECRETARIES

Alan Cohen

Judy Cohen
(Acting Dept. Head)

So, you're scheduled for a class you just can't stand? Guidance to the rescue! No matter when, no matter where, our school's Guidance Department will do anything to eliminate the stress. Despite a few changes in guidance, nothing has hindered the availability or credibility of the staff. If you're worried about teachers, PSAT's, SAT's, colleges, or any academic dilemmas whatsoever, remember there is always some one to guide you.

From early morning to late afternoon, the secretaries somehow manage to keep this chaotic school organized. Between filing and phone calls they also find time to assist the many students here who are desperately in need of help. Whenever the copiers break down, the teachers at AHS can count on the secretaries to fix them. Kudos to you all for keeping this school under control.

Want to dissect a cat? Welcome to Anatomy and Physiology. Questioning your place in the universe? Try astronomy class. How many have experienced the wrath of George, "I don't know," but piece together life in AP Biology. Any way you go, the next time you find yourself walking through the Science Wing, say to yourself, "self, what am I doing here?" From the final frontier to the secrets of life you can find all the answers in Agawam's Science Department. So whether you're balancing chemical equations or calculating elastic potential energy, just remember where it all began!

To some, math can be more like a foreign language. However, with the help of the Math Department, our three required years are made much easier. Most AHS students are bound to have heard of Mr. Pulaski's "ZD," or of Mr. Burque's favorite rows, "one, three, and five." All of our distinguished mathematicians are headed by Mrs. Alves. We can only be left to wonder if she makes her faculty "write out" her instructions.

ENGLISH

It's 2:00 a.m., your ten page term paper is due in about six hours. You sit at your computer feverishly working on page 4 of your paper and your third cup of coffee. Sound familiar? Most of us have grappled with writer's block into the wee hours of the morning once or twice in our high school careers. Though they are sometimes painful, English classes do not only teach us writing skills. They also help us expand our vocabulary and learn how to identify symbols, similes, and metaphors in all of the timeless classics we read. Each issue of our school newspaper is created by the Mirror Staff in Journalism II. The department also sponsors the annual Shakespeare Festival when the whole school celebrates the Bard's work. So next time you use a Wordly Wise word in casual conversation remember this: Those 20 credits of English not only let you fulfill graduation requirements, they helped you sound intelligent too. Serendipity! (Get a dictionary!)

HISTORY

From the Battle of Hastings to D-Day, the History Department efficiently teaches us the basics of the past to prepare us for the future. Educational tools such as Diplomacy and Castle Risk teach us how to take over the world. In government we learn how Mr. Bill becomes a Law. Philosophy students explore different concepts of God. Psychology class lets us probe the abyss that is the human soul. Much more than just dates, battles, and revolts, history helps us begin to understand the whole human experience.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

"Hola, Bonjour, Ciao, Elloh-hay." All of these words are taught to AHS students, except for the Pig Latin. In order to survive in a multi-cultural world, the Foreign Language Department offers Spanish, French, Italian, and Latin. In March, Foreign Language week is celebrated. We are always bound to hear Gloria Estefan's voice over the loud-speaker at least once that week. Still, learning a different language and culture is a life-long benefit.

Are you a two-finger-typist? Maybe you should try typing class. Can't balance a checkbook? Learn how in accounting. Can't write down what your teacher is saying fast enough? Learn shorthand in stenography. The Business and Computers Department offers all these classes and more to help prepare students for the real world. From inter-office memos to the information super-highway, it's all available right here. There's also time to relax and enjoy this wonderful technology with everyone's favorite — Computer Jeopardy!

MUSIC ART

In the words of Madonna, "Express Yourself." This is exactly what the music and art departments give us the opportunity to do. Mr. Files has pulled off some great top 40's, usually after taking half an hour to quiet the crowd. The new band director Miss Watson kept up the grand traditions of the concert and jazz band performances. The AHS marching band performed well both at half time and in parades, the performers keeping their "eyes with PRIDE." A final way we have to be creative is in Mrs. Messina's and Mrs. Shilling-Nordal's art classes. With classes like pottery, students shape their own destinies. Okay, maybe just shape a vase, but hey, it's a start.

The Special Education Department allows everyone to have an equal opportunity to learn. Their ability to teach, whether as at-home tutors one-on-one with the student, or in a classroom situation, has saved the grades of many fortunate students. These incredibly patient and caring individuals work overtime to help those students more challenged at academics.

"Line up!" How many times have you heard that one? Students are forever lining up for their locker room numbers, lining up for jumping jacks, and lining up to choose teams. One of this class' highlights is the volleyball tournament. For two months you and your team stick together through thick and thin. The whole concept of gym class can be captured by the immortal words of Al Albano, "We are all family!"

"Oh, so that thingamabobb connects to the doohickey?" If this is the extent of your technical knowledge you could certainly benefit from taking one of the many classes offered in the Technology Department at AHS. Students learn welding, metalworking, and basic auto repair. Learn to change your oil or change a tire so you'll never be stranded on the side of the road again. Students develop skills to enhance career opportunities in the real world. So take wood shop — learn a skill and make a shelf for your mother.

"Ooh that smell . . . Can't you smell that smell?" If you can, you are in the hallway where those taking food preparation experiment daily. What is that person barely reaching three feet doing in our school? No, it's not a freshman, just part of our child development class. These are just a few indications of what an exceptional Food and Consumer Sciences Department we have.

If you haven't yet mastered the Dewey Decimal System, Miss Shimel is here to help. Who can forget her detailed explanation of the correct use of all of the library's assets during freshman year? The AHS library can ease the pressure of those last minute term paper preparations. With the plethora of books, CD encyclopedias, computers, and reference books, teachers accept no excuses from students about the lack of ample material for research papers. So for all you bookworms, look up the AHS library under "knowledge" and expand your mind.

With the 21st century only a few years away, it is very important for students to touch up on their computer skills. Many turn to the Data Processing department to better their typing and note taking skills. Focused intently on their keyboards and monitors, those in the typing wing steadily prepare for the future. Office skills are also taught for secretary and managerial positions. No one knows what lies ahead, but those in Data Processing are ready for anything.

CAFETERIA STAFF

It seems like you've been in school all day when the bell rings, LUNCH! It's the one chance students have to escape the monotony of the morning. Any anticipation of what the day's lunch is can be satiated by the experienced cafeteria staff. No matter how many complaints they hear, the cafeteria ladies always greet us with a smile. Exact change, please!

CUSTODIANS

How many custodians does it take to change a light bulb? Here at AHS our halls are clean, paper stocked, and our desks are kept in neat little rows due to the hard work of our dedicated sanitary engineers. So next time you think of throwing trash on the floor just remember, they have more keys than you.

Stan Merrick and Vern Grumoli

Ms. Hayes

Don't fret if you're feeling a little dizzy and don't let a little headache ruin your day. Rest assured that Mrs. Hallaman is always there, thermometer sterile and ready! Located in the cafeteria lobby, the nurse is close by with an ice pack for those bumps and bruises from gym. She also makes sure that each and every student can hear and see everything just fine. So if you need a band-aid or just to rest for a while, Mrs. Hallaman is happy to accommodate you.

Ever feel like you're on the outside looking in, without a clue as to what's going on? This feeling is common for any foreign students who have yet to master the intricacies of the English language. With the help of Ms. Hayes, these students excel regardless of the language barrier. So if you speak "English as a Second Language," don't worry, none of us have figured out this language yet anyway!

Mrs. Hallaman

Mr. Doherty

No matter what is depressing you, no matter how upset you may feel, "Doc" Lynch is here to put a smile on your face with his various jokes. But seriously, when real problems do arise, "Doc" is more than willing to help. He is a very easy person to talk to, and his sense of humor can brighten anyone's day. Even if you don't have any problems, "Doc" is very good at listening. The next time you pass his room on the way to the basement remember, the "Doc" for is always in.

No one will ever forget health class with "Captain Jack Doherty." Since teaching the best ways to keep healthy both mentally and physically, Mr. Doherty has climbed in rank. This year he is the coordinator of the Substance Abuse Prevention Program. Parents can now breathe a little easier knowing that Mr. Doherty is on the case. For whatever the reason, students need not be afraid to come to Mr. Doherty. With his help, there is a strong possibility that any and all substance abuse problems can be deleted from AHS.

GOLF

Obviously, starting the season with a record of 0-2 was not a promising outlook for Agawam's Golf Team. The team quickly came together, though, with two big wins at home over East Longmeadow and South Hadley. A great season followed in which Agawam would only lose once more, 8.5-9.5, to a tough Ludlow team. Their 11-5 record only proved that excellence shone through the initial bleak prospects. With almost the whole team returning for next year, Agawam hopes to go far in Western Mass.

After graduating many key senior players it looked like the '95 team needed a "rebuilding year." Despite the losses, the team played very well under the leadership of Captain, Mark Swikalus. Star players were senior Xuan Ly at first singles and versatile sophomore Mark Freeman at various positions. The team worked hard, and despite earning a disappointing 4-9 record, it easily could have gone 8-4.

Other members: Selena Machia, Betsy Gervais, Kelly Carmody, Kelly Stoddard, and exchange students Christina Llobet-Huguet, Anna Uimonen, and Sara DeKeersmaecker held their own. With many veteran players returning next year, Coach Wolochowicz hopes the team will be able to serve up a winning season.

SOFTBALL

The Agawam Girls Softball team had an incredible regular season record of 18-1. The only blemish was to arch-rival West Side. The leadership of captains Chris Bousquet and Lauren Seymore helped coach Debbie Lickley and her team to have a successful season. On the defense, pitching ace Laura Rapa did an excellent job filling in for the injured Lauren Seymore. Battery-mate, Courtne Hyland, kept the opponents on their toes with her rifle arm throws to second base. Freshman Kristen Patterson started the Brownie line-up, and Senior captain, Chris Bousquet, led the offense with her plus .500 batting average as clean-up. In between this offensive sandwich were Becky Wing and Courtne Hyland who added a powerful element in batting. The unity of the team played an integral role in its State Final appearance. The Brownies defeated Central, Monument Mountain, Amherst, and Doherty of Worcester before a 2-1 nail-biting loss to Bishop Fenwick in the State Finals.

BASEBALL

The 1994-95 Baseball team had a tipsy year. The team proved to be an offensive powerhouse in 10-1 and 11-1 pastings of West Springfield and Central. Despite these moments of brilliance, the boys finished with a 9-11 record. The new coach and the large group of first-year varsity players might have caused a slight chemistry problem. However, with starting pitcher, Jon Jacobson, and a host of returning seniors to lead the team, next season should be an exciting one to watch.

BOYS LACROSSE

With every passing season, the Boys Lacrosse team shows marked improvement. Although only in its third year of existence, the team showed its great work ethic and skill in wins over Minnechaug and Pittsfield. First year coach Dan McCormick, senior defenseman Matt Disco, senior forward Marty Olroux, and senior goalie Matt Christy led the team to a 6-8 record. With a large amount of returning players, the sport hopes to change its club status and move to a varsity level. This year's Brownie seniors hope to pick up their level of play and have an exciting season.

The 1995 boys soccer team entered their season with high expectations. Led by many talented seniors like Chris Chechillo, Jeff Rousseau, Jeff Gaylor, and Mike Domingue, the J.V. team had much to admire. The team's nucleus also consisted of the talent of Jamy Pliska, Jamie Scherban, Jim Baldyga, Tim Conklin, Eric Johnson, and Dave McCarthy. The team played well all season, finishing at 8-8-2 and qualifying for the Western Mass Tournament. ## GIRLS SOCCER

The Agawam girls soccer team, under first year Coach Mary Murray, finished off the season with a 7-9-1 record. Coach Murray brought a new style of play to the Brownie booters. A slew of injuries plagued this talented group. Captain Allison Reseigne, out with a knee injury, helped keep the team mentally into each game. Captains Courtne Hyland and Sue DeFillipi showed their leadership by their aggressive play on the field. The Brownies finished off an injury-plagued season with a memorable 2-1 victory with three seconds left over league opponent Ludlow.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Agawam girls field hockey team finished off the season with a 6-6-6 record under veteran coach Cindy Grieve. The first two games showed the intensity and determination of the Brownie team as they tied powerhouses Smith Academy and Greenfield. Captains Becky Wing and Erica Pratt continually encouraged everyone to strive for their goals. Coach Grieve's final coaching game is surely one that she will never forget. The quarterfinal game against Northampton went through triple overtime and ended in a shootout. Despite the tremendous effort, Agawam lost 3-2. Overall, however, the team had a great season.

FOOTBALL

Faced by the unexpected loss of junior quarterback, Mike Lauro, the 1995 Brownie Football team started the season with heavy hearts. The team's courage shone through, though. The arm of Jeff Harlin, the rushing yards and touchdowns of Dom Pisano and Phil McGeoghan, as well as senior Mike Perry's seventy tackles after missing three games all showed heart, perseverance, and determination. Even with only four wins, the team showed uncanny talent, and next year's team has dedicated their season to Mike Lauro.

CHEERLEADING

Sure all those football and basketball games are exciting because of the great athletes and their performances, but to get the crowd going we can depend on Agawam High School's Cheerleaders. The Agawam Cheerleaders, coached by Kim Hebert, had an exciting season that began in June of 1995 and continued until March 1996. Before the regular season of cheering for the football team and boys basketball team, the cheerleaders attended a camp in Brand Lake, New York. This camp, which lasted from August 27 to September 1, helped the girls perfect their techniques. The team, led by captains Ellen Bellerose and Tara Florini, participated in Western Mass, Pioneer Valley, and Cheer Celebrations before the season ended. The seniors on the team, Tara, Ellen, Kerri Lawrence, and Meagan Langevin were selected as UCA Allstars. This group is more than just cheers and pom-poms. In fact, they are a team. They've succeeded many times, worked very hard, and achieved what every team strives for, unity.

GYMNASTICS

The 1996 gymnastics team saw their long hours of practice pay off this season as they placed second in their division and third at Western Mass. overall. The team's success was due to the inspirational coaching of Hether Sawyer, the leadership of co-captains Becky White and Jen Sparverl, and the determination and outstanding effort of the entire team. The team achieved a new level of success as they surpassed the Agawam High record for overall score. Next year's team promises to be strong. Individual success was also achieved. Becky White placed at Western Mass. and Division B championships. Melanie Demastrie successfully placed second at Division B championships and Western Mass. in the all-around. These two both made all Western Mass. this year. The team's highlight this year was their victory against Wacona in Agawam's gym. That was their most difficult competition of the year. Success definitely fell into the right hand, they jumped, they leaped, and they conquered.

BOYS SWIMMING

Many people think that swimming is fun and that it doesn't take a lot of effort. For all those that feel this way, you are sadly mistaken. Agawam High School just happens to have a handful of athletes that proved everyone wrong this year. The boys swimming team entered the season very short handed. They only had seven men with whom to compete, but did extremely well with what they had, placing third in the Western Mass. Tournament. Individual achievements were also accomplished. Senior Mike Robinson shattered the 200 freestyle and 100 backstroke records. Also, another senior swimmer, Keith Piro placed first in Western Mass. diving. No one knows what next year will bring. There will be many places on the team available because five seniors will be graduating this year.

GIRLS SWIMMING

If you are ever on a sinking ship and you don't know how to swim, you had better hope that the girls swim team just happens to be on the same ship. Although they finished the regular season with a record of 3-9-1, these talented ladies learned many things from first year coach, Lynn Modzelewsky. Captains Rachel Nelmic and Kristine Modzelewsky were great leaders for the new coach. The pair kept the team's spirits up and never let anyone get discouraged. The team is only graduating one senior this year and should be stronger with another year of experience. Instead of flying to new heights, these girls will just keep on swimming.

Right out of the gate, the 1995-96 Boys Basketball team showed huge improvements over last year with impressive victories over Putnam twice and West Side to start the season. During the season, they received great play from seniors Joe Albano and Jeff Rousseau, with seniors Chris Day and Dave Murphy wiping the boards clean. ## GIRLS BASKETBALL

The Agawam girls basketball team, under coach Lou Conte's guidance, finished off the regular season with a record of 14-3. Tri-captains Steph Biza, Courtnie Hyland, and Jamie Thomas have helped the team accomplish many of their goals through their leadership. One of these goals came when the Brownies defeated Longmeadow in the final season game to clinch possession of their third straight Valley Wheel Championship. These girls possess great talent. This, along with their hard work and determination were used in the Western Mass Tournament.

WRESTLING

Wrestling here at Agassiz is a perennial journeyman. Even with the temporary loss of senior captain and inspirational leader Andrew Ingham, the Grizzlies still cruised to a 12-0 record. Outstanding performers were sophomore Ryan Grealls, juniors Darryl Malachowski and Rich Skowyrza who wrestled at the 171 weight class for Andrew. Another wrestler in the spotlight was Jon Jacobsen, who won his weight class in the tournament held at Agassiz High. The team will be looking in the upper weight classes next year and will have to fill those huge gaps. Senior class grappler, Chris Chechile, will also be graduating with the many other seniors on the team. They had yet another great season under Coach Phil Tomkell, and as tradition has it, next year will be great too.

HOCKEY

The 1995-96 hockey team started the season full of hope. The team came out pumped. Captains Matt Radwanski and Trevor Brown helped to instill the ferocity and eagerness into the team. Unfortunately, their lack of size proved to be their Achilles' heel and led to a losing season. Despite this drawback, there was a showing of power with Matt Radwanski providing solid play as defenseman and forward, along with the emergence of sophomore Dick Feeley. Dick should be exciting to watch with two more years of experience ahead of him. Yes, this season was disappointing, but they can now concentrate on next season.

BOYS SKIING

This year's Boys Ski Team has enjoyed its most successful season thus far. Led by Coach Glenn Olson and Captain Andy Markowski, the team finished in 1st place, winning the Western Mass. "B" division championship. This year's team also qualified for its first appearance at the State Meet. A great deal of this success can be attributed to the consistency of the team's top four racers, as well as to the team's depth. Leading the way all season have been Andy Markowski, Ryan Progulskie, Ben Weld, and Kevin Perrault, all of whom earned enough regular season points to be seeded at the Western Mass. individuals, as well as to qualify for States. Between those four, Ryan was able to accomplish an amazing feat, placing at least two racers in the top ten in the division at every meet, with Ryan making it seven times, Ben six times, Andy five times, and Kevin four times. Other key skiers this year have been Mike Sauloff and B.J. Cortis.

GIRLS SKIING

The Agawam Girls Ski Team ended a successful season. Coach Jim Graveline had help from senior captain Meagan Moriarty. This young team, graduating two seniors, successfully finished off in second place overall in the C division. The team, stacked with many talented young skiers has high hopes in the slopes for next season.

WORKING OVERTIME

The Mirror staff works diligently throughout the year to produce six issues of the Mirror to update and entertain all of Agawam High. Not only does the staff inform us on everything from local disputes over powerplants to the troubles and pressures affecting today's teens, but they also amuse us with humorous comics, reviews, and Roving Reporter quotes. After reading the important articles, everyone turns to Hammy's incoherent babbling in Mirror Shorts to lighten up each issue. The Mirror also proves as the school's boasting bulletin, for acknowledging the accomplishments of Agawam's clubs and sports. After working under incredible stress to make each deadline, their work is always worth it once they see each flawless issue.

Agawam High School does have amazing talent when it comes to band, show choir, and musical productions. These are all great ways for students to express themselves, but there is still another opportunity that some may have overlooked, our school's literary magazine, The Uniqorn. The Uniqorn allows students to easily express their innermost feelings without being embarrassed through prose writing, poetry, art, and short stories. The talent contained within the writing makes the magazine a pleasure to read. Mr. O'Brien, Uniqorn advisor, revels in all the excellent poems the staff receives. Co-editors Dan Barber and Rose Oppedisano piece together each solid issue while Associate Editor, Diane Parslow, helps out. People read newspapers, T.V guides, and books everyday, so why not read The Uniqorn? You'll be pleased with what's inside.

The National Honor Society is just one of the many clubs under the gavel-abusing command of President Alfred Albano. He leads this group of successful, academic, and trustworthy seniors and juniors in a variety of volunteer activities including helping out Toy for Joy and fundraising for the American Heart Association. The group also lends a hand at the Lions Club Barbecue Chicken Booth at the Big E and helps tutor their fellow students. It's obvious that at the national level they are indeed a very honorable society.

"The 32nd Chapter of the National Honor Society last met on February 12, 1996 with 26 members present. Secretary Melissa Fleming read her minutes, . . ."

English serves as our main language throughout our entire lives, but often times we encounter different languages. Students that have dedicated at least four years to studying a language will be at an advantage. Agawam High has two national honor societies for French and Spanish. In their respected languages they are referred to as Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica and Societe Honoraire de Francais. To become a member, each student must have achieved and "A" average in the language, have good grades in their other subjects, and at least be in the fourth year of that language. The Spanish National Honor Society is sponsored by AATSP, American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese, and Miss Podier. This year's members are Melissa Fleming, Keith Jendza, Paul Lalli, and Selena Machla. The AAFTF, American Association of Teachers of French, sponsors the French National Honor Society. Its members include Kelly Carmody, Melanie Guillemette, Patricia Olson, and Rita Reshamwala. These bilingual students will wear honor cords at graduation and should be proud of their accomplishments.

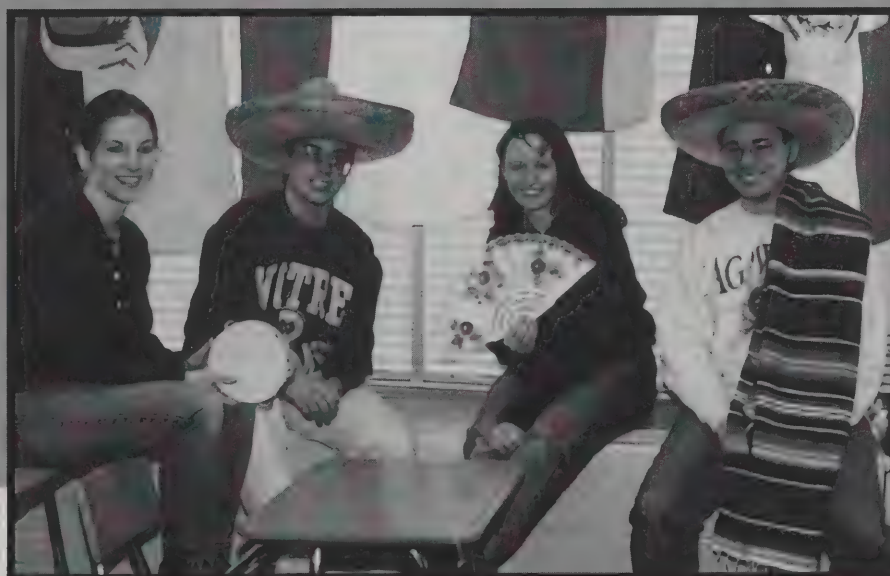

Rita, Kelly, and Patty pose for their recognition as French experts.

Mrs. Kundl helps the French National Honor students to perfect their French accents and attitudes.

Did you understand the joke? These Spanish scholars certainly do, the joke was in Spanish.

The Spanish National Honor Society certainly has the language skills and ensemble to take a trip to Spain.

From class elections to carnation sales, the Office of Student Affairs is a busy organization. The group's members are elected from the student body. This year the O.S.A.'s prominent activity was Winter Olympics. The group revived the former annual event that had been dormant for five years. Democracy and spirit reign at AHS thanks to this hard-working organization.

Dan Viens — cool in the face of chaos.

During its second year of existence, the Interact Student Government revamped its selection process. This year, representatives from each class were elected by the student body. According to advisor, Mr. Zabeilski, the group's goals included solidifying the discipline code and selecting a student representative to the school committee. The organization was also concerned with making itself available to the student body. To relax, the dedicated members periodically attended Rotary Club luncheons — no wonder Al Albano is president!

The Model Congress is an outgoing group of students with a lot to say about today's controversial issues. They also draft mock bills in preparation for the day they become dictators of the world.

What do Homer's Odyssey, the United Nations, socialism and economics have in common? These are just a few of the subjects on which members of the Academic Decathlon were tested at the Western Mass Academic Bowl on November 18, 1995. The team had practiced for weeks to sharpen their knowledge of the subject matter and to prepare their four-minute speeches. Members competed for medals in nine categories (including a speech and an interview) in three different levels: Honors, Scholastic, and Varsity. Kelly Carmody won a gold in Honors Essay Writing, Courtney Limbert received a gold in Varsity Essay Writing and Interview, and Kelly Shaw earned a bronze in Scholastic Math. After six hours of grueling testing, the team members relaxed on the bus by singing Christmas carols to the falling snow. The highlight of the day? — LUNCH!

AS SCHOOLS MATCH WITS

According to Mr. Ferranti, "Every school boy and school girl knows what happened in 1066." Well, at least the As Schools Match Wits team knows about the Battle of Hastings. These trivia buffs meet every week to sharpen their "gray matter" for the Channel 22 trivia game of the same name. This year's T.V. Team members were Captain, Cathy Willis, Kelly Carmody, Christy Dubay, and Kelly Shaw. All students are welcome to attend the meetings and test their IQ's against those of the T.V. Team. Members have a blast and learn much from the incomparable, yet dry, wit of advisor Larry O'Brien.

MATH TEAM MATH CLUB

We all know that simultaneous equations, parabolas, slopes, and all those x's and y's sure can be cumbersome. This is not so for Agawam High's own math team. These very talented and dedicated students use their brains in five competitive meets each year. Questions consist of material based on Number Theory, Algebra I and II, Geometry and Trigonometry. These six students, from all different grade levels, deserve many kudos for their efforts. Let's face it, math isn't all that easy, and all those who face it head on are to be admired by all.

Dave Martin demonstrates a math problem to his fellow teammates.

The Math Club thinks of new ways to raise money for the Math team.

The Math Club is an organization with a three-pronged focus: community service, supporting the Math Team, and fun! The club's primary responsibility is to raise funds for the Math Team by having various bake sales and fundraisers. The group participates in "Coats for Kids," the "Open Pantry Can Drive" and many other activities to help those in need. This could not be accomplished without the dedication of advisor Mrs. Pasternak.

Here they joined thousands of others to unite against racism. Speeches were made by members of professional sports teams such as the Bruins, Patriots, and Celtics. Throughout the year, the club met every other Tuesday. This diverse group will be entering its fifth year, and is going strong.

Love your planet! Each year the members of S.A.V.E. do just that. They also do their best to beautify our environment at school by cleaning up the courtyard and planting trees and shrubs. This year they also participated in a tree census and in Coats for Kids. Each year the club celebrates Earth Week with educational speakers and presentations. The club also travels to one of Agawam's elementary schools to help inform the youngsters of environmental issues and to encourage them to recycle. The club sells environmental T-shirts to fund its projects.

With the help of advisor Mrs. Bertone-Gross, S.A.V.E. is working to make the world a better place for us all.

The members of the Future Teachers of America aspire to be the educators of the next generation. These students visit elementary schools in Agawam several times during the year to read to the students and observe the teachers working in class. The members also hold a blood drive in the fall and the spring at AHS. To raise money, members sell candy and partake in many other fund-raisers throughout the year. This money is given out in scholarships to graduating members.

You don't have to be a fan of Bob Ross to enjoy the art of painting. More than enjoying all those "happy little clouds," members of the Art Club explore many different aspects of art. Mrs. Schilling-Nordal makes sure that the Art Club members get an in-depth look into the world of art. Members watch slides about the accomplishments of artists, and about many different styles of art. Intent on adding to the aesthetics of the school, they created such things as paper maché animals.

The members of this year's prom committee made it "A Time To Remember." During their well-attended meetings, members made decisions about the theme, colors, menu, and souvenirs. Mrs. Schilling-Nordal, the advisor, also acts as a part-time referee when members disagree over these choices. In any case, the prom committee's hard work paid off in April.

Smart people will take over the earth!! Led by Renaissance advisors Mrs. Sasso, Mrs. Martin, and Mrs. Thomas, Agawam students are going into studying frenzies in hopes of achieving good grades for Renaissance Gold or Gold Plus cards. The tradition of going out to breakfast has come to a screeching halt because students would rather go hungry than forfeit a chance for exam exemptions. With a Christmas Party and discounts at local businesses, the brightest bulbs at AHS are finally being rewarded.

Hey Selena, did you remember your Renaissance card?

Dave, you're holding up the entire line!

These members are really excited about the raffle.

The American Field Service Club, or AFS, greets all of our foreign exchange students with open arms. This year the club welcomed five AFS students from all around the globe: France, Panama, Paraguay, Switzerland, and Thailand. In November, the club hosted sixteen area AFS students. This was not the only very successful international weekend, either. In February thirteen high school students, along with the foreign students, spent a weekend with another club in New Jersey. AFSers then reciprocated the favor in March. Headed by Mrs. Bruce, the AFS club is obviously an involved one. Presidents: Selena Machia, Kirsten Decoteau, Christy Dubay

Peer Leadership is a dedicated group that works hard throughout the school year encouraging Agawam students to avoid substance abuse. Each year they work with the American Heart Association to bring the Great American Smokeout to AHS. In December, they also assemble the Chain of Life around the cafeteria to discourage drinking and driving during the holiday season. Another of the group's major projects is traveling to the Middle and Junior High Schools to help the kids develop drug and alcohol refusal skills. AHS would be a better place if we all followed the example of the Peer Leaders.

What is this, a running gag throughout Agawam High School's Library? What is everybody laughing at?

Are you lost in the library? How well do you know the Dewey Decimal System? When in doubt in the library, just look for the assistance of the library aides. This hand-picked group of students spend their free-time in the library, whether it's delivering the library list, finding magazines or books, or filing cards in the card catalog. Regardless of what they're doing, it's time wisely spent.

There is obviously something very surprising in the book Miss Shimmel is reading.

Editor-in-"Chief," Kirsten Decoteau was always a pleasure to work with, until the deadline. Sporadically changing her ladder diagrams, Kirsten confused both Layout and Literary staffs. Kelly Carmody and Becky Wing served her well but often times took matters into their own hands. Becky spent time taking pictures and helping out every other section, while Literary had to deal with the proof-reading "genius" of Kelly. For the most part, everybody sought the help of these editors, even though paths were crossed many times.

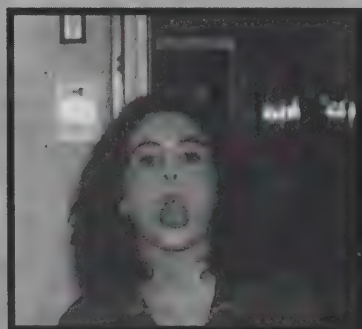

Snap-shot Mary Parotta was the staff member who stressed-out only when the deadline arrived. Even though all the pictures were there, organizing and filing was no picnic. Keeping schedule with what pictures were to be taken kept Mr. Pulaski on his toes. Thanks to Mary, her staff found success in their pictures, and the Yearbook proves it.

No one is really quite sure how Lisa, Selena, and Christy put up with Literary Editor, John Higgins', constant mood swings and male PMS. The truth is, we're not quite sure how the staff let him live through the year! From senior kit nightmares to print-out predicaments, all the copy in the Yearbook turned out to be fine. Lisa pretended not to care to bug the heck out of John, and Selena was obedient and always wrote in poetic justice. Christy just skipped her other homework in order to keep up with his various demands. Even though barely anybody reads the copy in the Yearbook, this staff writes on with pride!

The 1996 Yearbook Staff would be bankrupt if our diligent Business Staff ever slacked off. Scott and Stacie had the most envied job of all, handling the money. Making deposits played an integral role in the production of the Yearbook. Thank goodness they knew how to add and subtract. After the tedious job of taking money for yearbook orders, the two money hounds helped out wherever they could.

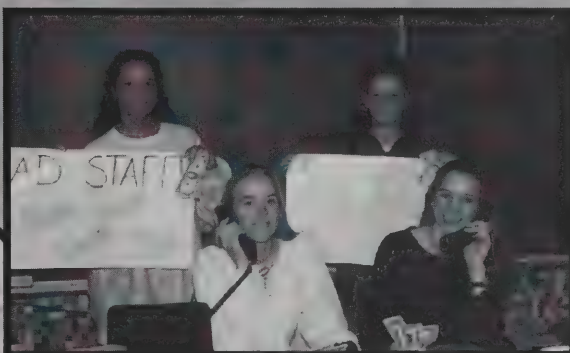

These pica-counting, picture cropping, artistic ladies spent countless hours intricately designing every page of the Yearbook. Editor, Jenn Clarke, busily picked pictures and instructed her crew how lay-outs were supposed to be "laid out." Melissa's emotional stress only added to the excellent work she accomplished. Betsy and Danielle constantly argued with Literary about copy positions while designing new pages. Although many bumpy roads were traveled upon, these girls managed to come out on top.

One of the main tasks of the Photography staff was to stop by Kinney's and pick up those ever important pictures. Corrie, Kristin, Sarah, and Courtne occupied the rest of their time by juggling schedules for ad pictures or figuring out what pictures were yet to be taken. Always keeping Mr. Pulaski one heart-beat short of a massive coronary, these camera-shooting aces kept negatives and always met the deadline.

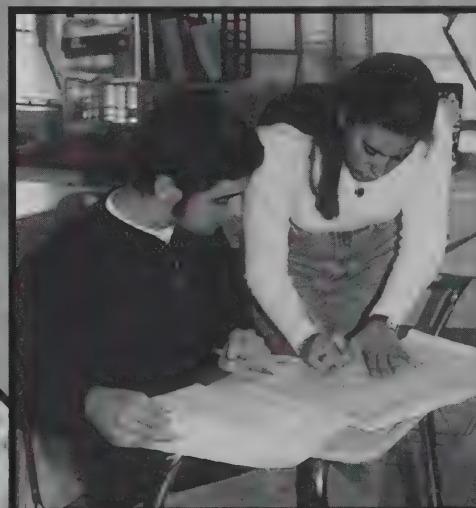

"Hey Gina, would you go make a phone call!" This was a popular demand by Mr. Pulaski to his own personal secretary, Gina Cincotta. Poor Gina had to cater to his every whim. Copying down the day's jobs, running frantically through the halls, and taking attendance aren't even half of what Gina had to do (like taking down Christmas decorations). Regardless, she enjoyed the attention and absolutely loved getting confused in the very busy room 40.

How would you like it if the Yearbook consisted of nothing but a couple of pages stapled together? Well, that's what you'd get if the Ads staff wasn't doing their job. No need to worry, though. Editor Courtne Hyland had her staff trolling around Agawam looking for unsuspecting businesses to take the bait. Nicole, Kara, and Sue were extremely successful in their Saturday trips for ads. Each member raised $1400 a piece. So, we hope that you enjoy the nice hard-bound, color-sectioned, multi-paged Yearbook. Remember, it only cost you twenty-one bucks.

Hey, sports fans! If you're looking for stats, batting averages, or team records, Steph and Dave are there to help. Their constant visits to Ms. McSweeney's office and their knowledge in sports writing led to a descriptive sports section. Even when Literary decided to throw them a curve, they came out with a hole in one, or something like that. Finding names and quotes also led to many rounds throughout the school's hallways. When the Sports staff scored a touchdown, they always went for the extra point!

SHOWTIME

The only other non-singing performers besides Dan Viens and Al Albano in the top 40 concerts are the jazz dancers. The girls, who take either Choreography I or Choreography II classes, spend plenty of time both in and out of school preparing a great show. The jazz dancers also bring their original moves and costumes to all of our Broadway Revue and Vaudeville shows.

Their hours of practice always produce great routines. Although Dan and Al might also make great dancers one of these days, the idea of leotards is a little scary . . .

With an intense and dedicated instructor like Mr. Files, the AHS Show Choir provides Agawam High with high quality entertainment. It isn't easy combining choreography, choral performance, and theatrical stage presence. The Show Choir demonstrates its skills at the Christmas Concert and Broadway Revue. Numbers prepared for this year included a medley from "Phantom of the Opera." With talent like this, who knows what the future holds for the AHS Show Choir.

The Freshman Chorus also gets the unique opportunity to perform with the Show Choir during the annual Christmas Concert as well as at the graduation ceremony. Look out Show Choir, the chorus class promises to bring new members for years to come.

A lot more than just music, vocals and dancing is put into each year's Top 40's, Vaudeville, and Broadway Revue. In Music Production, students learn how to operate the stage lights, control switchboards, and coordinate the shows to run smooth and under control. The next time you attend one of the many AHS performances, don't just think of the performers. Think, also of those who are working behind the scenes.

CHORUS PRODUCTION

Laura Tenerowicz, Amy Champagne, Jessica Nolan, and Jennifer Fell put their talent to good use.

Ever try performing a musical concert in front of a full audience? Well, despite the risk of embarrassing mistakes, the concert band bravely attempts this feat several times a year. From putting on the annual Christmas Concert to competing at MICA to accompanying the graduation ceremony, their productions prove to be a relaxing experience. Every year, their musical expertise takes them on a few days of vacation for their Spring Trip. They're a band and they give concerts. Go see one and enjoy a great musical performance.

Can you rub your tummy and pat your head simultaneously? If you can't then you probably can't play music and walk at the same time either. Band members practice long and hard to learn how, and their efforts are rewarded in the form of trophies from MICA competitions. Football games just wouldn't be the same without the half-time field show, and local parades wouldn't be nearly so festive if the AHS band weren't there to delight our ears. Yes — they're a band and they march . . . and do a darn good job.

Colorguard. As the name implies they guard our school colors with their lives. They compete with the band in the MICA festivals and march with them in local parades. This hardworking and under-appreciated group provides the visual element which brings the music to life. In the winter, the group performs in the NESBA circuit as the Indoor Guard, incorporating more dance elements into their routine. Sure it's easy to throw a flag in the air — the hard part is catching it. If you decide to try it at home, watch where you swing that flag, and make sure there's no one in your immediate vicinity when you practice as serious brain damage could result.

THEATER

Now hold still and stop smiling — you'll ruin my perfect make-up job!

Andrew, with his spiffy hair-do, has no problem filling his part in "The Crucible."

The lights dim, the curtains open, and there you are — at the delightful mercy of Mrs. Poulin's theater classes. These actors and actresses do an excellent job of entertaining Agawam High by bringing tears to our eyes and smiles to our faces. On numerous occasions throughout the year, we experience and witness the talent inherent to these gifted theater students. The actors and actresses take advantage of the fact that performing on stage is a unique way to express emotions. They spend countless hours rehearsing lines and make-up tricks (yes, even the guys) to ensure a performance nothing less than spectacular.

It's me, Justin "Hammer" Casinghino. Please, no autographs!

We were yet again amazed by Allsha's incredible voice.

What better way to begin a new school year than with a spectacular fall Top 40! It began with an energetic rendition of "Johnny Be Good" by Dave Dello Russo. Other songs followed like Shannon Gilmar-tin and Missy Sheehan's "Lump," Jessica Sassarone's "When the Children Cry," and "Do You Sleep" by Elizabeth Butler. The crowd jumped to their feet for Irene Brown singing "Water From the Moon," Allsha Mattex with "Don't Take It Personal," and John Higgins' "Tomorrow." Other stunning performers like the talented Justin Casinghino, Ellen Bellerose, and Phil McGeoghan left the crowd cheering for more. Enough for you? The "2nd Annual Unplugged Top 40" was also a great success. It is impossible to question the range of talent at AHS, but if you do — check out Top 40, you will soon change your mind!

"The Simpsons, da dat, da . . ." Yes, that's right, at Kid Party '95 the Simpsons made their debut appearance, but where was Homer? If you found yourself dancing with one of the many Disney characters there, don't worry, they were all part of the crowd. With the variety of music provided by D.J. Tom Melbourne, everyone was dancing and clowning around. Of course, everybody noticed the absence of the biggest clown, President Alfred Albano, who unfortunately was not able to attend. Karaoke was definitely a popular attraction. Even some teachers were caught in the act. "Life is like a box of chocolates . . .," was stated by Forrest Gump, who also made a special appearance. It looked like Jim Baldyga ran out of the hospital too fast to remember his shorts after being chased down by our own Latin Kings! But, whether you were a Japanese lady, or an out-of-place hippie, the '95 Kid Party was a definite success!

Tim Conklin and Jeff Gaylor are attached at the hip.

"Jenn Clarke and Ken Smythe, your carpet awaits."

Kelly, Kamaris, John, and Jay are keeping De Peace.

The 1996 Seniors are still kids at heart.

Melissa Fleming, Christine Mazeika, and Mary Parrotta have disco fever.

"Justine and Dave, this is Agawam High School, not Heritage Hall."

Kim Faust and Kevin Bovat take a walk on the wild side.

Will someone please direct Laura Rapa to the restroom area?

THANKSGIVING DAY GAME

Umm . . . that "Bunny Ears" gag went out of style a long time ago!

Once again, Agawam and West Springfield renewed its rivalry on Thanksgiving morning with its annual Turkey Day Football Game. Although Agawam was the underdog, the Brownies played outstanding football throughout the entire game but came up one point short of the win.

On this cold morning, Agawam got onto the scoreboard first when senior quarterback Jeff Harlin returned a punt 61 yards with a fantastic run up the left sideline. Later on in the game, Agawam appeared to have taken a 12-0 lead when junior Bryan Menard returned a fumble for an apparent touchdown but, due to a questionable penalty against Agawam, the touchdown was called back.

The game then continued on as a defensive battle. The Brownie defense stifled many Westside drives but midway through the fourth quarter, the Agawam defense began to bend. Westside, on a fourth down, was one yard away from a first down. The Brownies had appeared to stop them, but a very favorable spot by the officials gave Westside a first down and goal to go from the 1 yd. line. On the next play, Westside unfortunately scored the game tying touchdown and with the extra point took the lead 7-6.

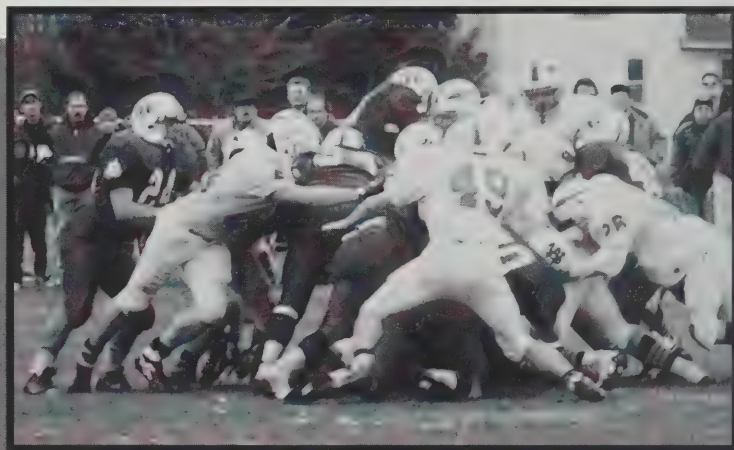

With little time left in the game, Agawam tried to mount a comeback but fell short. Although the Brownies did not come up with a victory, they played with heart and desire and can hold their heads high.

Chris Day takes it all in stride.

Shall we dance?

Where's the ball? Get the ball!

Brownie football players get ready for the kickoff.

Smush the kid in the blue!

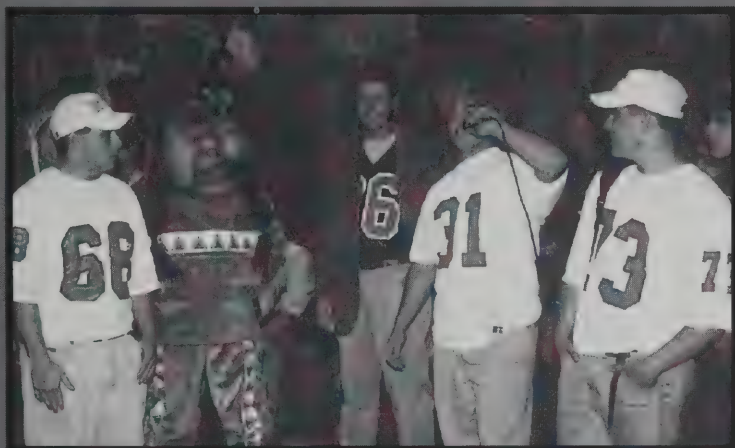

Why is it that Glenn seems to never have a clue?

Thankfully, nearly everybody obeyed Mr. Zabielski's numerous warnings and wore orange and brown on "Orange and Brown Day." This day also marked the debut appearance of AHS new mascot, Mawaga. Who would've thought that such a nice looking fella could cause such a controversy? Although many activists opposed our Indian mascot, the high-spirited football rally was definitely a success. The majority of the student body showed up to give their support to the Agawam High School Football team in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day game. The cheerleaders were more than happy to brighten our spirits, and the band played on loud and strong. The rally's highlight came when Mike Johnson got "Footloose" with the Colorguard. Now that was school spirit!

Where's your "orange and brown"?

Mr. Zabielski, Rob Ward, Jim Anlico, and Dom Pisano check out our new mascot, Mawaga.

The famous second lunch event, crowd-surfing, was a popular activity at the football rally.

These girls show their AHS spirit.

SEMI-FORMAL

The crazy dance styles of Al Albano (who finally made it to a senior function) and Justin Casinghino had everyone laughing at the semi.

These alluring beauties just couldn't pass up the opportunity of a group shot.

This dapper group patiently waits for their meals to come.

The 1995 Semi-Formal began with Al Albano, yet again, dancing to his favorite song "We are Family." His entourage quickly followed and the dance floor was filled. Crestview Country Club was the sight of this memorable event and provided good food and a comfortable atmosphere. D.J. Tom Melbourne did a great job with the music and pleased the entire male population with the Beastie Boys. Although supper took a little long to get there, we all danced the "La Macarena" and felt a class togetherness when "Piano Man" was played. Needless to say, everybody had a ball and, as a class, we had experienced one of our last senior functions.

It's tough for all of us to look so good!

ut of all the hands, it was Andrew's ce we saw during the "Y.M.C.A."

Kristen, Steph, Missy, Krls, Allie, Tracy, and Danielle stunned the photographer who took this picture.

Hey girls, what are you so happy about? Where are your dates?

Jay Patrick and Matt Radwanski "Say Cheese!" in their own personal way.

Nicole, Sue, Sam, Missy, Becky, and Kelly represent only a fraction of what elegance was at the Semi-Formal.

Quick, everybody follow Joe Albano and Justin Casinghino in the Conga Line!

"Hey Jenn, do you like my tie?" "Just keep smiling Ken."

April 19, 1995 was definitely a night to remember because everything looked "Wonderful Tonight." The 1995 Prom painted Chez Joseph in turquoise and baby blue while everyone else decorated the rest of the place with their stunning dresses and handsome tuxedos. The menu consisted of a choice of prime rib, chicken, and even scrod. Dessert was served, but everyone was too busy dancing to notice. Speaking of dancing, all who attended joined in the conga line, made fools of themselves during the Chicken Dance, and even shook it up to a little Latin cha-cha. The time finally came to pick the King and the Queen of the Prom. All the juniors watched all the seniors, boys and girls, parade around the ballroom while being judged. When the votes were counted Derek Vrijenhoek was King and Tiffany Lemelin was Queen. The rest of the night was spent dancing and planning after-prom activities. In the words of the Beastie Boys, "You gotta fight, for the right to parrrrrrty," and everyone did. People left the 1995 Prom with memories of such a wonderful night.

Yeah, it's cold.

(Say this to yourself sarcastically) "Remember when it snowed?"

For those of you who attended Theater II's production of "The Odd Couple," you may ignore the following: For anyone who didn't, pay attention! Both Dan Viens and Justin Casinhino were very convincing at portraying the characters of Felix Unger and Oscar Madison, respectively. Other characters, played by John Hill, Andrew Ingham, Kevin Bovat, and Andy Pond, were the epitome of a bunch of card players. Dan was the perfect manic-depressive hypochondriac in a comedic contrast with Justin. One must also be aware of the alluring presence of the Pigeon sisters, Sabrina Ferrari and Jessica Pryzbyla, who quickly took a liking to Felix. Mrs. Poulin should stand proud as a result of a wonderful production. Those who missed it should be ashamed of themselves!

COLOPHON

The 1996 edition of the Agawam High School Sachem, "A Time to Be," volume 69, was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. Our plant representative was Paul Delany, Jr.

The cover was designed by David DelloRusso. It is a lithocote cover with rainbow lemon endsheets. The copy style is Nouveau and Avant Garde.

Eight hundred fifty-six copies of this yearbook were purchased. It has two hundred thirty-two pages and is priced at twenty-one dollars.

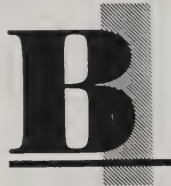

Twenty-six staff members had "the time of their lives" creating this publication.
